- For students to students

Working together with WPs.

Student Awards for art. Local taskforces.

How can lecturers support more interest of students towards the activities?

On-site meetings for student board members.

On-boarding collected as a document.

Second group discussion:

- The significance of staff supporting the students with tasks etc. But at the same time still giving the students resources and possibilities to do the work
- When staff encourage students, students have more courage to work. Also encouraging to participate in other alliance activities outside the student body
- Budgets and concrete steps help student engagement, if the alliances student body has a budget in the grant agreements even better
- Information must be accessible and understandable to students; you wouldn't send a staff member to meetings without the necessary information and resources so students shouldn't be either
- A future action point: alliance alumni activities

= support, resources and encouragement as key words to better student engagement
